

HOW TO LEAVE A GIFT IN YOUR WILL

We recommend that you first discuss your plans with your loved ones.

If you decide to help us with our lifesaving work and leave Wellington Free Ambulance a gift in your Will, then the next step is to visit your solicitor or a trustee company to ensure your wishes are properly recorded.

They can help you choose the gift that best reflects your wishes.

The three main gift types to consider

Residuary gift

You may choose to leave whatever is left or a percentage, after all your expenses and debts have been paid and your loved ones have been provided for. This is the best way to keep your gift to Wellington Free Ambulance inflation-proof. It also means you don't need to put a precise value to your gift.

Pecuniary gift

This is where you gift a specified sum of money is gifted to Wellington Free Ambulance in your Will.

Specific gift

Here you choose to give a particular item of value (stocks and shares or property for example) to Wellington Free Ambulance in your Will.

Suggested wording for your gift

To make sure the wording in your Will accurately describes your intentions, we suggest including the following clause:

I give the sum of $_____ (or) _____% of my estate, (or) residue of my estate, (or) property or assets as follows to Wellington Free Ambulance Service Incorporated (registered Charity Number CC31374) for its general purposes. I declare that the official receipt of a fully authorised officer of Wellington Free Ambulance shall be a full and sufficient discharge to my executors.

Your gift left to the general running of our services will provide Wellington Free Ambulance with the flexibility needed to respond to critical priorities in the future.

If you would like your gift to go towards something specific, we would welcome the opportunity to discuss your wishes with you directly.
